International Conference

on Japanese Gardens Outside Japan March 27 & 28, 2009

Experts from Japan and North America including: garden historians, managers, landscape architects, gardeners and educators will present unique learning opportunities for students interested in Japanese Gardens. Students in Landscape Design, Horticulture, Asian Studies, Museum & Art Education and Non-profit Management will learn about garden design, history, maintenance, and management.

Student Scholarship Application

Deadline for Submission is March 12, 2009

Scholarships to cover the Conference registration fee ($75) will be awarded to currently enrolled undergraduate students (minimum 12 units) or graduate student (minimum 6 units). Families of faculty members are not eligible. This scholarship is awarded by the Friends of the EBM Japanese Garden, CSULB to encourage students with an academic interest in Landscape Design, Art History, Asian and Asian American Studies, Museum & Art Education, Horticulture and Non-profit Management or other related disciplines.

For more information about the conference see www.csulb.edu/~jgarden

Applicants must fill out the application below and mail to:

Applications must be post marked by Thurs., March 12th. Call 562.985.5930 for more information

The EBM Japanese Garden, CSULB 6300 State University Drive, #306, Long Beach, CA 90815.

Please type or print legibly:

ame:			Campus I.D.#:
Last	First		MI
niling Address:
No. & Street		City	State	Zip
me Phone:	Other Phone: _		Email:
nool Currently Attending:jor:		_Year:	_Expected Graduation Date: _
ease describe your educati (Limit to this page)	onal and career goals a	nu explain v	vily you deserve this solic	naisilip.
(Limit to this page)				