

What are you doing this summer?

How about greening the grounds of the U.S. Mission in Geneva, Switzerland... at their expense?

Apply now to be considered for two expense-paid weeks redesigning this symbolic landscape.

GREENING GENEVA

Working Dates: August 2–13, 2010

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTS

ASLA has partnered with the U.S. Mission in Geneva, Switzerland, on a very special internship opportunity. The Mission is looking to “green” its grounds to demonstrate its commitment to sustainable design and showcase American design expertise. To that end, the Mission has asked ASLA to help bring a group of U.S. landscape architecture students to Geneva for two weeks to research the site; conduct a design charrette; create a five-phase, iterative implementation plan; and oversee and participate, if possible, in first steps of design implementation.

Applicants must be US citizens. Students will be lodged in local homes, and a modest per diem will be paid. They will also have the opportunity to explore the city to help define context for their work.

All applications must be made via email as single PDF. A copy of the application can be found at www.asla.org/GreeningGeneva.aspx. In addition to the application, all submissions must include:

- A résumé
- A 400-word-maximum statement of interest explaining what you hope to get out of the internship and what you feel you can contribute, including computer and language skills as well as coursework and experience
- Three 11 X 17 samples of your design work in any style you choose.

Again, all these should be aggregated into a single PDF file and the PDF should be labeled with “YOURNAME.Geneva” and sent to ASLA Director of Public Relations and Communications Terry Poltrack at tpoltrack@asla.org. In addition, each applicant must have a professor submit a letter of recommendation directly to tpoltrack@asla.org with the subject line “Recommendation.YOUR NAME.”

All applications are due by COB April 30.

Applicants must bring their own laptops if chosen. All applications must be made digitally and must be in by April 30. ASLA organizers will review and select up to eight students, plus four alternates.