

MARCH for water 09

SUNDAY - MARCH 22ND - 9:00AM

Shared Waters
Shared Opportunities

This is a bottled water free event.
Please bring a reusable bottle -
Water will be provided.

A march from
Los Angeles State Historic Park
to Rio de Los Angeles State Park

Afternoon Water Celebration and Informational Fair

In an act of solidarity, many marchers will be carrying vessels of water on their heads throughout the route of the march. This gesture will allow many, to first hand, experience what others around the world have to endure to have access to this basic necessary resource on a daily basis.

FOR LOVE OF WATER -

A community march inspired by FLOW the Film. A March to highlight the importance of water in our local environment, our lives and the planet.

Through this march we take on the commitment to bring people together on this most important topic and resource. While bringing awareness to local issues relating to water, we also have an opportunity to bring attention to world water issues impacting fellow humans around the world. We chose March 22nd so our march would coincide with World Water Day.

When: Sunday - March 22nd, 2009

Where: Los Angeles State Historic Park
Park Entrance is in front of:

1300 N Spring St, Los Angeles,
Los Angeles, California 90012
